Santa Anna is getting rid of all Mexicans who are suspected of American sympathies. It is stated that in England a most perfect contrivance is in use to warn trains approaching open drawbridges to stop. At a point on the road sufficiently distant from the draw projects a pin which is so placed that it of necessity comes in contact with a similar pin in the approaching locomotive—touching which reverses the engine and sounds the whistle to break up.

"Don't kill the Birds"

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

I presume Mr Editor that your correspondent "" who came out a few days since in the columns of your paper with so much eloquence and pathos misapprehends the object of the gunnery which annoys him

It is an old saying that "a guilty conscience needs no accuser And from the fineness of the texture in which that paragraph was clothed I think I know the author If so, it is my gun he has heard, and my powder he has smelled, that has pained him so much And the object of this note is to disabuse myself from even a suspicion that I would harm the first feather of a bird, and to relieve my friend from pain on their account

The guns he hears and the powder he smells are used to destroy cat-like liars and not birds And this is the clearest and most effectual method of ridding ourselves of these pests of fruit growers that live upon the foliage and suck the life sap from the tree

Indeed I am so fond of birds, that I surround my dwelling with a profusion of forest and fruit trees, to attract the birds thither besides keeping several cages of tame birds, to help fill up the harmony And I go further I act in relation to birds on the golden rule, to "rather suffer wrong than do wrong

Last year a family of king birds took possession of my garden the wife making her nest in a plum tree, and while she sat upon her eggs the husband remained perched on the highest twig in the centre of the garden keeping sentry And so often as I entered my garden he would dive from his roost, aiming at my face and eyes and making all the noise and tumult possible, until, to carry out the sport I would flee and leave him complete master of the premises

Mr bird friend would admit, perhaps this to be an occasion when powder might be used with propriety The king birds were allowed, however to hatch and rear their young and depart in peace DIRIGO

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION —The second Arctic expedition in search of Sir John Franklin will sail in a few days The brig "Advance" which is one of the vessels of the former expedition, has been selected and put in thorough condition Her rig has been altered from a brig to a brigantine Her deck is made of a double thickness of plank, with felt between, and has a cork lining beneath, about seven inches in thickness Outside she has three thicknesses of plank, and within she is fastened and timbered in the strongest manner The "Advance" will be provided with a portable observatory, a very complete set of magnetical instruments, sent out from England by Col Sabine and a daguerreotype apparatus There will be attached to the expedition an astronomer, an artist, and a naturalist. All told, it will probably not comprise more than twenty-four persons The advance has five boats, two of which are willow baskets, covered with India rubber. The latter are very light and buoyant, and are intended to be used in connection with sledges, by parties engaged in service on the ice after the further progress of the vessel shall have become obstructed. Dogs to draw the sledges, also the services of Esquimaux, are to be procured on the coast of Greenland, on the outward passage to Baffin's Bay. The Advance is not expected to be absent more than eighteen months but will be provisioned for three years. The expedition will be under the command of Dr. Kane, who was one of the former expedition.

All is not lost

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

I am glad to perceive in yesterday's paper, an article, calling for union and harmony among the friends of temperance This is a good sign, to say the least, and for one I will say, Go ahead, and let us see what kind of a platform can be manufactured, broad, high, and strong enough, to harmonize and unite the old veterans of the cause with the "new lights of 1851, and 1853 As the forty four alterations in the Maine law called amendments, are to go into effect in this city and State, next week, it certainly ought to be known who among us are not ashamed to "face the music" and "stand up to the rack, fodder or no fodder" There should be no "dodging the issue now I was in Augusta during the session of the Legislature and have an inkling of what was said and done Bangor was foremost and loudest, if not strongest for some of those amendments and now I desire to see how they are treated by the citizens generally, females and even boys are seen drunk, about these streets nearly every day and I do not know of a city or large town in the State where liquors are not sold to who ever desires them, in large or small quantities I cannot believe it is possible to prevent their sale and use, though we may, for a time, check and restrain its excessive abuse I look upon liquor selling as the meanest business a man can follow OBSERVER

MALTBY wishes very gratefully, to acknowledge the generosity of his Parish and congregation in giving him leave of absence for the summer continuing his salary meantime proving their own supply of ministerial service and putting in his hand a purse of some five hundred dollars for his convenience by the way

The good effects of Gardening.

Gardening is a civilizing and improving occupation in itself, its influences are all beneficial, it usually makes people more industrious, and more amiable Persuade a careless indolent man, to take an interest in his garden and his reformation has begun. Let an idle woman honestly watch over her own flower beds and she will naturally become more active There is always work to be done in a garden, some little job to be added to yesterday's task without which it is incomplete, books may be closed with a mark where one left off, needle work may be thrown aside and resumed again, a sketch may be left half finished a piece of music half practiced, even attention to household affairs may relax in some measure, for a while, but regularity and method are constantly required, are absolutely indispensable to the well being of a garden The occupation itself is so engaging, that one commences readily, and the interest increases so naturally, that no great share of perseverance is needed to continue the employment, and thus labor becomes a pleasure and the dangerous habit of idleness is checked. Of all faults of character, there is not one perhaps, depending so entirely upon habit as indolence, and now here can one learn a lesson of order and diligence more prettily and more pleasantly than from a flower garden.

But another common instance of the good effect of gardening may be mentioned, it naturally inclines one to be open-handed The bountiful returns which are bestowed, year after year, upon our feeble labors, shame us into liberality. Among all the misers who have lived on the earth, probably few have been gardeners. Some prose grained churl may set out, perhaps, with a determination to be niggardly with the fruits and flowers of his portion, but gradually his feelings soften, his views change, and before he has housed the fruits of many summers, he sees that these good things are but the free gifts of Providence to himself, and he learns at last that it is a pleasure, as well as a duty, to give This head of cabbage shall be sent to a poor neighbor, that basket of refreshing fruit is reserved for the sick, he has pretty bouquets for his female friends; he has apples or peaches for little people, nay, perhaps in the course of years, he at length achieves the highest act of generosity—he bestows on some friendly rival a portion of his rarest seed, a shoot from his most precious root! Such deeds are done by gardeners."—[Miss Cooper's Rural Hours.

H. G Farrell's Genuine Arabian Liniment

is a most extraordinary medicine the truth of which is placed beyond doubt by the vast sales of the article, and the many cures being daily performed by it, which have easily had no rival in all other medicines and the skill of the most physicians in the world It is composed of balsams, extracts and gums peculiar to Arabia—possessing in a concentrated form all their stimulating anodyne penetrating unctuous and revulsive properties and the same which again are wrested by the Sons of the Desert with such miraculous success in curing the diseases of both man and beast.

Read the following remarkable cure which should at once place H G FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT far beyond any similar remedy

Mr H G Farrell—Dear Sir Actuated by a sense of gratefulness I submit the following as an instance of the utility of your great medicine My child, three years old was suddenly attacked with a terrible disease which in less than six hours prostrated it to total helplessness. The limbs became so rigid that not a joint could be bent the flesh turned black and cold, and entirely deprived of feeling the eyes fixed, partially closed and altogether blind following this was deafness to all sounds the spine became contracted and so curved that when lying on its back the head and heels only touched Indeed the child presented every appearance of being dead Immediately on the attack the in only physician was called in and for three weeks he labored so restore it to feeling but all in vain although it was blistered a dozen times and various rubefacient Liniments applied A consultation of physicians was then held, but to no purpose, the case was then laid before the Medical Society but nothing could be suggested which had not already been done and the doctor then told me he could do nothing more We then commenced applying your Liniment freely over the entire length of the spine and you may imagine my joy, when after a few applications returning animation was apparent and it rapidly recovered with the exception of sight which did not become perfect for near a month The child is now healthy and robust as can be From other cases of the same kind occurred previously in my neighborhood all of which died when there is no doubt if your Liniment had been used they would have recovered.

The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W B. SUPERIOR ARTICLES, for sale by may24 WM BARTLETT Jr.

I PROFESSOR ALEX C. BARRY'S

TRICOPHEROUS, or Medicated Compound,

FOR beautifying, improving, and preserving, the Hair curing cuts bruises burns stings rheumatism and all irritations of the skin A preparation, the sale of which amounts to one million of bottles annually, would seem to need no advertisement, but as the thousands who purchase use and approve of it have probably no idea of the enormous extent of the business done by Professor Barry he gives herewith a plain statement of facts derived from his books and with them tenders his earnest and hearty thanks to his innumerable patrons

Professor Barry's accounts of sales for the year 1852, show that during that year about 240 000 bottles of his Tricopherous were disposed of and that the cash product of this immense sale was nearly $100 000

This plain unvarnished tale is a better commentary on the value of the article than any thing its inventor could say If it were not peerless in its effect upon the hair—it were not invaluable as a household remedy for cuts bruises burns skin diseases &c—it would not of course be so universally in demand The wealthy portion of the public would buy it at any price, but Professor Barry has reduced it to a figure so low that the poorest can avail themselves of its benefits

Sold in large bottles (price 25 cents) at whole sale and retail, at the manufactory and depot 137 Broadway New York and by the principal merchants and druggists throughout the United States and Canada Mexico West Indies Great Britain, France &c

PATENT SELF HEATING SMOOTHING IRON!

MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century, relieving and facilitating the labor of men by machinery and other modern implements; but females have been nearly neglected until the introduction of the Patent Self Heating Smoothing Iron, which will relieve them, in a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of Ironing, besides being a great saving of time and expense. This Iron combines economy, convenience, saving of labor, and despatch; one cents worth of dry charcoal supplies fuel for a whole days' constant ironing. Hard wood coal from the stove will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room or on the open air. Hatters' and Tailors' Irons are constructed upon the same principle, and possess equal superiority.
